Prologue

Localized in the city's trunk line, inside of a top personal residential area, a young boy is lying quietly in a bed, staring a LCD screen. However, the room in which the youngster was, was very strange. Countless animation toys were spreaded over the cupboard to the point where any otaku would die of envy. You can see from the fine workmanship that each work is a valuable treasure. On the bookshelf there is also collection covers from Hong Kong, Taiwan and even directly purchases from Japan, like genuine manga, cds, posters, etc. Every kind of neighboring merchandise. At the same time, extremely in disharmony with the room, exist the best medical equipment comparable with the city's large hospitals together with a life support equipment!

The youngster face was very thin with an abnormal yellow colour. He has inserted inside of his nostrils a breathing tube along with a hiss sound which comes from the machine. Even though he is young, because of chemotherapy, he ended bald and not even his eyebrows were saved. Being seen by other people would give a strange and fearful feeling.

"Ha... Cough... Haha" The LCD is displaying the anime called《Fullmetal Alchemist: Brotherhood》The protagonist "Ed" Elric Edward is hugging intensely his brother's armor to the extent of almost breaking his vertebra. A happy laughter followed by a slight cough comes from the mouth of the youngster.

With the gently opening of the door, a nurse enters holding a warm water bag. After the youngster nodded, the nurse changed the infusion bag of his right arm for a cold water bag. After fixing the warm water bag, the nurse left the room silently.

After the nurse left, the youngster moved his somewhat rigid body and pressed a few buttons of his keyboard, making the monitor switch to a trading window. Looking at those densely packed numbers and dazzling trend chart, the youngster decides to start selling and buying. Suddenly the youngster's look appears to be of a professional in the stock market.

After the operation is completed, the tired youngster took a deep breath lying down. Ordinary people can't begin to imagine the wealth that went into this youngster's pocket in only ten minutes. Perhaps some would pity this youngster, casting away those stocks which would rise in value after some time, but the youngster know that he doesn't have much time left. So for the sake of security, the youngster does not care if he gain a little less or not.

Dididi! A message came from QQ and then all of sudden, his spirit returned. The youngster supported his body on the bed, and opened the messages column. A user called "Glasses Panda", a online friend just has finished sending a file.

The youngster quickly and quite happily accepted the file. After unpacking the file, there were more than ten delicate magic fantasy CG. A big dragon flying on the sky, a beautiful fairy playing near a lake, a magnificent carved angel in a castle, as well an infernal demon filled with blood and fire. Each CG is full of life and vitality with a realistic feeling of beauty which leaves you lost in astonishment. Even before seeing what "Glasses Panda" sent, the youngster can't prevent his hands shaking from excitement.

&1t; You are the best CG master!> The youngster sent his answer expressing his most sincere praise. Glasses Panda sent a very naughty and embarrassed expression to express his gratitude towards his praise!

The youngster looked carefully at the CG and every time he sees another, he heart goes into shock. His desire for living is strengthened. Before being acquaintance with "Glasses Panda", because of the disease and the pain of the chemotherapy, the youngster thought many times about ending his life, but now the youngster wants only to live a bit longer and to look at those beautiful works of art.

&1t; I wish I could have a little more time to see your work!> The youngster typed silently telling to his friend about his pain.

Glasses Panda came with a huge and naughty smiling face!

The boy decided to come clean about everything, both of his hand quickly typed the keyboard; &1t: I have an incurable disease and I don't have much time to live. Until now, every CG you've done together with the anime, had brought me smiles, that's why if it's possible-----can you leave your bank account number? I want to give you some money to express my gratitude>.

The youngster felt like his message was improper so he quickly continued typing: I'm sorry for say something like this so suddenly, but I don't mean anything bad. If you are afraid you can go back to the bank and apply for a bank card. I have handled the money like this many times.....

To the youngster, taking out hundreds of thousands of dollars doesn't affect him at all. It can be said that the money he profit doesn't have any meaning to him. The only use it has is that after his death, his parents are less sad, and to live a pacific life where they don't need be worrying about clothes or food.

Glasses Panda didn't reply, instead, he uploaded a new CG. In the image, a mother was gently holding his child who had tied a red scarf. The boy was carrying a schoolbag, and looking at him, the boy seemed to be happy and proud when looking at the red scarf on his chest. The entire CG exuded a warm feelings.

For at time, tears were falling without stop, he believes that he truly became friends with him.

Glasses panda came again with naughty expression and said: &1t; In fact, I'm more interested in the pile of figurines than your money. If you are willing to give them to me, I will "reluctantly" accept them.> Another image appeared in the message bar of QQ, of an emperor in a costume drama sitting straight in his emperor's chair, with the following words, "You don't need to thank me!"

The youngster smiling through tears, began to hit the keyboard. But just at the time when the youngster was about to deliver his message, he feel a stream of hot coming from his throat.

Not good! After realizing that his illness came again, an intense cough accompanied by a spit of blood came from his mouth! The sound of quick steps came from the corridor, and in the next moment, the door was fiercely pushed by severals nurses walking hurriedly. They slowly supported the youngster's body into the bed. Another nurse used the room's telephone and contacted the doctor who was resting in another room.

Soon, several doctors together with the boy's parent rushed in, the doctors and nurses were busy facing his body as well, there was a look of sadness in his parent's face. The only thing the youngster feel is that his five senses are becoming more and more fuzzy, all the sounds become distant, like they were coming from a unknown and distant place, the scenery began to blur. After losing all the strength on the body, both eyes begin to close, and finally everything is shrouded with darkness.....

But nobody noticed at this moment when everybody was busy with the youngster, in the computer where he had opened QQ, Glasses Panda had responded: &1t; Don't be afraid! Death is just a new beginning! I will fulfill your desire>.

Chapter 1

Meeting with God

The Earth is really beautiful seeing it from here! Crawling on a huge platform, the youngster looked down at the sky-blue planet. From the start, when he appeared in this space, he was surprised to the point that his brain went blank. He doesn't know how many time has passed but he slowly calmed down.

He turned around, helpless sitting on the ground. Before his eyes there was something like a pure white marble platform. The youngster looked at his hands, which were a little transparent, they resembled a white mist. Near the platform, looking at the near pond, it seems that his whole body has changed into a strange state. This state is what the people call the so called soul form!

If I remember correctly.....I should be dead.

Right! The youngster nodded, after all, his body is in a really strange state. Even the pain that plagued him for many years has disappeared. Everything was very strange. After careful thinking, the youngster jokingly tease himself that his circumstances are similar to the countless YY novels? After his death, he has travelled to an unknown space.....

Depressed, the youngster stood in front of the spacious platform and roared up: "According to the plot, a God has to appear and then comes the protagonist's turn? Hello! There is nobody here!"

There is nobody here... There is nobody here... There is nobody here...

The youngster's voice echoed through the platform, but hearing no response, the youngster, depressed, sat again on the ground. I hate it! It seems like is not the same plot like the novels. The youngster has tried before jumping off from the platform, but he always was sent back to this place, as if it were impossible to leave.

Just when the youngster was depressed, a streak of light suddenly flashed across the platform. A shining white huge sphere of light appeared in the center of the platform. The intense light caused to the youngster who was in the soul state to divert unconsciously his eyes, not daring to look at light sphere. Suddenly, he heard a dignified voice, but it was not possible to identify whether the voice is from a man or a woman, as if coming from a faraway place.

&1t; Chosen one! After accepting the baptism of death and rebirth, you will become my emissary, my incarnation, representing my will.....>

He didn't wait for the voice to finish speaking, as the youngster was already yelling: "sTop"!

The voice stopped immediately and in a split of a second, the light sphere was scattered by a lot. Taking advantage that the light sphere was weakened, he turned his head and stare it. The youngster opened slowly his mouth and said: "I don't know what you are and I don't know what you expect me to do! But I would like to use three words to answer your proposal"!

Saying that, the youngster stopped and said three words gnashing his teeth with anger: "I" "refuse" "completely"!

The atmosphere on the platform fell into an awkward silence because of these three words... If it were not because the dazzling light continued dispersing itself, the youngster will certainly noticed that the light sphere on the platform was slightly trembling as if it was enduring something.

"Hahaha... Hahaha...Haha"! Suddenly, a huge laughter came from the light sphere without the serious and imposing feeling of earlier. It was laughing heartily like a young boy.

The youngster didn't expect something like this, so he didn't know what to do. The light sphere stopped laughing and slowly began to change his shape. The youngster was amazed looking at the light sphere, it has changed before his eyes to a almost a boy of his age.

The boy, the incarnation of the light sphere was floating near the youngster: "Perhaps, is better if I speak to you with this appearance!"

The youngster carefully narrowed his eyes looking at the new appearance of the light sphere. The boy, which was standing in the same place as the light sphere of before didn't cared at all and was merely showing an indifferent smile!

"You are..." The youngster stretched his arm, pointing the boy: "A God... an alien... or something else?"

Not waiting the boy's reply, suddenly, the youngster becomes worried, and with all his strength, he knocks in his own head, not knowing whether being excited or depressed: "Good! Tell me something... What the hell is going on, why I'm in this kind of situation similar to what happens in those web novels."

Seeing the youngster's behavior, as if the boy was satisfied, nods. As if encourage him, the boy raises his thumb: "Splendid! You only needed 2 hours 23 minutes to adapt yourself to this situation after waking up, and not only that, your spirit is considerably stable and you are not suffering from any mental disorder! That's great!"

Laughing gently, the boy claps his hands, but the youngster seemed to be a little angry. After taking a deep breath, he sat down on the floor: "Good, then can you tell me who are you?"

"Who I am?" Pointing at himself with an exaggerated laughter, the boy said: "I have many names. The humanity calls me God, in the Quran I'm called Allah, in the Bible I'm called God, in the Taoism I'm called Hongjun, Buddha in the Buddhism, and sometimes I'm called Satan, demon or destruction..."

The boy suddenly stopped describing himself so exaggeratedly, when he looked down at the youngster's eyes who seemed to lack understanding: "You all call me in those web novel the God of creation, God!"

"God!?" After listening to those words, the youngster showed a strange expression, he supported himself with one hand on the ground while the other hand pointed towards the boy without any force, murmuring.

"In fact... You can also call me 'The Seeder', in the literal sense that I'm the first born in the universe. I do not even know for how many years I travelled through the countless universes spreading the seed of life." The boy standing with arrogance, looking at the youngster said: "If you are not comfortable with those names, you can also call me 'Glasses Panda'".

...Because of that line, the youngster's brain seems to have stopped working, and so, he was only was capable of staring the boy, who claims to be 'Glasses Panda'."

“You... You really are, ‘Glasses Panda’?” Until now the mysterious CG master maker was this boy in front of me, and not only that, he is God!?

‘Glasses Panda’ nodded claiming that was true: “Are you surprised?”

The youngster didn’t said a word, still he found hard to believe it. ‘Glasses Panda’ looked at the youngster and then placed his hand gently on the youngster’s head. The youngster felt a slight chill rushing through his heart, and his state of excitement calmed down.

“This... This is... What happened?” The youngster touched his forehead looking at ‘Glasses Panda’ like something unimaginable happened.

‘Glasses Panda’ gently shrugged with a smile: “That’s nothing, only a little trick to calm your mind, otherwise, if you are always in that excited state... How we are going to have a nice chat?”

The youngster used the hand that was on the ground to get up, and helpless say to ‘Glasses Panda’: “What is there to talk about? I didn’t expected my first ‘true’ friend to be a God.”

“With more reason you should be proud!” Said ‘Glasses Panda’ with both hands on his waist with an arrogant look.

But that sentence made the young man feel angry: “Is only that you don’t have the manners that a God should have, like the dignity and temperament.”

‘Glasses Panda’ stupefied looked at him and then said with a laugh: “I only thought that this appearance was more convenient to talk to you, but if you want a majestic conversation...”

After saying that, ‘Glasses Panda’ snapped his fingers and the whole scenario around suddenly became distorted, just like being in the center of the storm. The youngster closed his eyes in panic, but when he opened, the boy who was just now in the platform disappeared from his sight. To his surprise he was in a solemn and spacious room. A fine red carpet was spread through the floor, decorated with ancient rosewood furniture, a bookshelf was filled with splendid books and on the wall was hanging a five-star red flag. The whole room seemed like the study of an old revolutionary.

Where is this? The youngster slowly walks toward a round table, on there was several green tea cups blowing steam. He stretched his hand towards the teacup, but he was unable to sense the temperature of those teacups.

“You are in your soul state, you will not feel hunger, pain or temperature.” Along with the voice, a majestic figure came walking in.

Along with the figure, the youngster ferociously turned his head, when he saw that person, he almost felt like his heart jumped out of his chest. Of course, In the premise he have a heart...

“Don’t be nervous, little comrade. Sit down and let’s talk.” Each to his own business, the man sat down.

Like a conditioned reflex, the youngster sat down, it was hard to believe that in front of him there was an extraordinary man. The youngster stuttered: “Pre... President...?!”

This extraordinary man didn’t respond, he only raised his tea and took a sip.

A door was pushed open and severals people entered in line. The founder of the New China, the greatest diplomat, the commander of Resist America and Aid Korea volunteer troops, the Chief architect of reform and opening up, every one of them are engraved in every youngster’s memories.

“Oh! You’re already here?”

Dressed in a fitting chinese tunic, the prime minister smiled, then he took a seat and sat down.

When all those old revolutionaries gathered around the center, the youngster felt a little shiver all over his body. Suddenly, the youngster saw that his two legs were also transparent like a mist, and so he immediately remembered that he was dead. A moment ago he was talking with God, ‘Glasses Panda’, so from where these old revolutionaries came from?

The youngster almost bounced fiercely from the wooden bench. He was doubting the person in front of him was the president, so he asked: “...Panda, ah! You... You are ‘Glasses Panda’, right?”

“Bingo! You guessed correctly, but there is not reward!” Originally, using the serious face of the president, every youngster would be grinning.

“Haha, this little comrade’s ability to adapt is very good! Reacting so fast!” The chief architect of reform and opening up smiled. Then, from his pocket, he pulled a cigarette and took a mouthful.

Not only looks and voice are the same, even the expressions and how they behave are the same. Unable to take his eyes off from all those extraordinary people, he turned towards ‘Glasses Panda’ and asked: “Don’t tell me they are...”

‘Glasses Panda’ put down his teacup and shook his head: “No. ‘They’ or rather ‘We’, all the people inside this room except you, are all me.”

What? Don’t say that! The youngster reacted looking at those people with a look of surprise.

Dressed in the military uniform of the volunteer army, the commander in chief nodded, but at this moment everyone present spoke in unison: “I don’t have a fixed appearance, I can imitate any attitude and even split myself into several wills to control different individuals.”

Four extraordinary men, four different voices, but at the same time, not one of them misspoke when saying the same sentence. The youngster felt that this solemn room became strange and a little scary.

“Well, it seems that this appearance has made you feel more nervous.”

While sitting, ‘Glasses Panda’ and the other three people’s body began to slowly split into countless and tiny spots of light. At the same time, the room also started to distort itself, it started to spin.

What is happening now? Although he wasn’t afraid, is only that subconscious, the youngster used his hand to block what was before his eyes. The whirlwind stopped once again, and the room changed into a Victorian style living room-like. From a open window came the sunshine filling the entire room with brightness and vitality.

In front of him stood a girl, dressed in black gothic dress, black wings, red eyes and silver-white hair. After placing a hand slightly in front of her chest, she gave an elegant bow followed by a smile: “Perhaps this is better? Father.”

Suigintou!? That’s right... The youngster determined that he had not been mistaken. Her smile had a trace of evil feeling, even when she was bowing it showed a arrogant stance. Compared with the original size of the doll, it was more like the height of a normal little girl. This was the character from the popular anime called 'Rozen Maiden'. The first doll, Suigintou.

In front of the delicate and lovely porcelain doll called Suigintou, for a moment, the youngster was staring blankly like a stupid. But only because of his previous experience, the youngster didn't seem so surprised and upset this time.

The youngster walked slowly towards 'Suigintou' and bent down his body to look carefully at her body. Looking at her meticulous face and arrogant manner, inside of the youngster's mind, a thought appears, 'very cute'.

The youngster fiercely shook his head, discarding the strange idea: "Panda?"

"Bingo! You guessed correctly again!" The incarnation of 'Glasses Panda', Suigintou, lifted her skirt and elegantly spun around with a smile.

Taking advantage of the Suigintou's appearance, 'Glasses Panda' can be regarded as wickedly cute: "You like what you see? Otou-sama! (Speaking in japanese: Father)"

Otou-sama... Unexpectedly he used on purpose the Japanese pronunciation. Even though their voices are the same, but instead because the youngster knows that is 'Glasses Panda', he feels awkward. Therefore the youngster gave a bad review: "Besides making me feel that you don't have what a God should have like temperament and dignity, now I'm doubting whether or not you have a split personality!"

As if the weak heart of 'Glasses Panda' was injured, he says: "What a way to use a bad review to hurt my feelings. The one you always liked it wasn't the Suigintou character?"

The youngster took a glance at 'Glasses Panda' and said: "There are many different characters that I like from anime."

"That's right! But you have more favorable impression of this character called Suigintou..." 'Glasses Panda' put away his cynical expression and said slowly word by word: "After all... Since it can be said that both have the same problem! The arrogant and beautiful Rozen Maiden, Suigintou. Even though her body has a defect, she walks strongly towards her dream! In the same way, even though you are living under the fear of the leukemia, you still hope to live. You admire the strong willpower of Suigintou, as if she were a reflection of you.”

Perhaps I should be thanking ‘Panda’; After the short monologue of ‘Glasses Panda’ came a short silence from the youngster: “You are really flattering me! From the many times I have suffered from my illness, many times I thought about ending my life...”

After a faint sigh, ‘Glasses Panda’ clapped his hand and said: “Forget about that, we are going to return to the main topic!”

“Wait a second!!” The youngster said hurriedly.

‘Glasses Panda’ stopped his action looking puzzled at the youngster: “Is there anything else?”

“In fact... If is possible...” The youngster crouched down, looking at ‘Suigintou’ with a face filled with hope and expectation: “Can I hold you?”

“I will use three words to answer your proposition: “I” “refuse” “completely”!”

Chapter 2

The reason for refusing

With a clap, 'Glasses Panda' restored the platform to its original state, he also changed his appearance to first boy he saw. Facing the youngster, 'Glasses Panda' seriously asked: "Tell me, why did you refuse?"

Why did I choose to refuse?

Towards this question, the youngster feel is not worth the effort, so he asked in another way. "I should be the one asking, why did you, God, choose me?"

'Glasses Panda' with a helpless expression said: "What do you mean?"

With both hands across his chest, the youngster let out a sigh and with a slightly sarcastic tone said: "Actually, I have a question in mind, if you also know that I have read many novels online, what I do not understand is, why the so-called God, is always looking for a scoundrel! A rogue! A pervert, a useless person, or the embodiment of a weak-willed person kind..."

Glasses Panda looked like he wanted to laugh, but he said nothing and continued to listen to the boy's complaints.

"If I had to guess correctly from the words I have just said, then I would need to prepare to go to another world. But in the world there are so many excellent talents, why did you choose me?"

Trying to suppress his laughter, 'Glasses Panda' waved his hands and said: "Well said! First, let me tell you a little about me, and also I haven't chosen you especially!" Placing emphasis on each word, Panda said: "To be honest with you, the first time I contacted you was through the internet, but that was what all of you, the humanity like to call, fate, luck! And second, why do you despise yourself like that?"

The youngster shrugged his shoulders and said: "Look at me, I'm only a otaku, I have no desire to achieve anything, I'm only wanting to die!"

In disagree, 'Glasses Panda' patted the youngster's shoulder: "Is not a sudden impulse wanting to send you to another world, I have observed you for a full three years. I'm fully aware of your ability. You don't need to hide anything from me, don't forget but I'm 'God'. As long as I'm willing, I can easily see through the past of every person. That's why I can see clearly everything that happened in your past life."

My life. After hearing talking 'Panda', the youngster tried to recall his own past life, but he suddenly discovered that apart of his death, his mind is fuzzy and no matter how much he tries, he isn't able to remember his last moments.

Looking at the youngster who had a troubled look, 'Glasses Panda' stretched his hand and gently touched the youngster's forehead: "Every man will die, the memories you once had, are like a flood, and will be soon forgotten. This is what the humanity call, the so-called reincarnation and the like... Of course, occasionally there are those with more determination, those are able to retain some fragments of their memories." A faint light blue was sent from Glasses Panda's finger: "Let me help you recalling again!"

In an instant, the youngster seemed like he was in a storm of memories, Countless images from the depths of his mind came rolling...

He was born, that right! The youngster remembered everything. He was born in a wealthy family, his father had the strength of a local CEOs, and his mother was the university's vice principal! From childhood, with his cleverness, the youngster won adoration of his parents and elders. Even though his father, being one of the CEOs, makes him being busy, he still took time to come home. From the beginning, his family was always peaceful and blessed.

His cheerful childhood only lasted until his ninth birthday. That day his father was looking at the stock market while sat at his desk, perhaps because he was absorbed with it, he didn't realize his son was also staring the stock market for a long time. After he regained his composure, he found out that his son was staring at the stock chart through the computer screen with a curious look. When his son inquired about what he was doing, he smiled and patted his son on the head, and told him that was a stock, thinking that his son didn't understand what was that. However, it was unexpected when his son told him he knew what the stock was, but also saying in a loud voice that he made millions of dollars! Surprised, he asked from where he could know about the stock market but his answer made him laugh to the point where his stomach started to hurt!

Of course! There was a big difference between the stock market and Monopoly 4, it was not simple as only sell high and buy low. Maybe it was a momentary impulse, but he sat his son in front of him and jokingly told him to buy a stock market's share. Seeing at his son staring blankly to the screen filled with numbers and trend charts, his father who was laughing explained him some common knowledge about the stock market! But something unexpected happened, he thought his explanation was quite boring but his son was hearing him with great interest. In the end his father extracted money from his account and bought the share his son chose...

Sometimes a small choice in life can lead to an enormous change in your destiny! Compared with the game, the young boy gained more interest towards the stocks because it was even more interesting and complex, perhaps even more because lady luck was smiling at him! Three months later, the nine years old boy made his first fortune, After the transaction cost and the tax only were left 30.000 dollars.

Towards the boy's family, 30.000 dollars didn't count as a lot of money. maybe more like a little surprise from the sky. His parents brought a generous dinner and gifted many things to his son as a congratulation for his small fortune, it was only that at that time the youngster didn't know the worth of 30.000 dollars.

When the young boy asked again if I could buy another stock, his father agreed. Perhaps his father thought that it was better for his son to be exposed with the stock on the computer, which was similar to a data analyst, developing his son's thinking ability and computer power than playing computer games all day. The father took out the money earned from his son as capital to buy again a stock for his son and one more time he selected the stock his son chose. This time, it took a bit longer to teach his son the details about the stock market.

And this time! A ten years old boy earned 70,000 dollars!

The father can't help but being very surprised, surprised at his own son for having more insight and patience than him, his father. Even when the stock was having a large fall he refused to sell to have a profit but at the next moment it rose again! As a father he decided to let him decide for himself and not act as a guide, later on he gave everything to his 10 year old son to operate... From now on, stocks losses and profits coexist, the youngster have stepped into a path different from people of his age. When children of the same year go to home they open the computer and watch animated cartoon or play different types of computer games, but not him, he was only concerned about the countless and complicated data and trend charts.

Because the company stated to expand, his father started to be more busy, it was not possible get home on time and having dinner with his family. Even towards his own son, it was not possible to pay him more attention. The only thing that reassured him was his son's results, they have always been very satisfying. Of course, he occasionally hear his wife complaining that his son was always in his room and was unwilling to go out...

The young boy's quiet life lasted until he was 14 years old, everything was over...

430 million dollars! To an average person would be a huge fortune! Entering a first-class university, a first-class company, it was a large sum of money they will not earn even with working hard throughout their entire life. But now it was in the hands of a fourteen years old boy! For his company to be where it is now, the father's boy started from scratch working hard for half of his life, but his son only by sitting at home, hitting a few buttons on the keyboard gained more than him. For him, as a father, what his son did, it was slowly negating all his beliefs...

Starting from this day, their father and son relationship began to deteriorate. The youngster did not understand why he was angry and the father didn't want to be with the one who denied his beliefs, finally, the youngster had for the first time, his first big fight with his father, resulting in him to leave home. Although he was only a 15 year old child but in his many years fighting in the financial circle, his line of thinking was not less of an adult. The youngster only needed a computer that can connect to the internet and he can get everything he need. With money he asked a person to forge the id of his parents, from the internet he bought real estate and furniture, the youngster was ready to build his "own" kingdom. But this was not his dream, what he holds in his hands is a great fortune and in today's society as long as you have the money you can buy everything you want.

The school was not anymore a place of worship, because one day after his big fight with his father, when he went to the school absent-minded he was scolded by his teacher. Originally his mood was not good, so with much disdain in front of the whole class he started to calculate what his teacher can earn through his entire life.

“Your hard-earned money is not much better than a fraction of what I earn!”

When the youngster said those words coldly in front of the whole class to his teacher, the whole class was surprised and his teacher who was grinning from ear to ear walked out from the classroom! Perhaps the youngster didn't know when he found that he started to like using money to measure a person's life.

Spend! Profit! Spend! And profit! The youngster repeated the same action mechanically as if he was an alien living in the world. With an intelligent brain and outstanding insight and not because he used the money wastefully and stupidly! The youngster continued to accumulate wealth in his 'own' kingdom. He resembled a genuine king, following his heart's desire. When people tell him that money is not omnipotent, with despise he tells them that not having money is unacceptable!

Not having money is an absolute no, but indeed, sometimes is not omnipotent... At least it cannot buy genuine affection, it's like a pretty girl around you. The youngster understands them very well, if you don't flatter and give them what they want, then it's quite clear they will abandon you fast. With no family to accompany him, even at night, having this lovely and charming body, sometimes the youngster feels cold... At last, after two years of being alone the youngster came to know family love...

Hereditary leukemia from his grandfather's! Having fallen to the ground, he was sent to the hospital. Eventually after being sent to the hospital for first time, his parents came, at the end, all that family love didn't vanished into the air... The youngster returned home and felt the warmth of his loved ones, but it was too late. Even if the modern medical treatment was continually progressing, against 'leukemia' the success treatment was not one hundred percent effective.

The chemotherapy and his illness were intertwined for two years. The youngster had to leave the world with regret at the age of 19...

This is! The youngster was fiercely awakened from dreamland and saw that nothing has changed. He still was in that wide white platform.

‘Glasses Panda’ patted the youngster’s head and said: “Have you remembered everything?”

The youngster nodded slowly and said: “I... I remember! It’s only that... I...”

“Is only that, what?” Looking at the youngster that was still in stupefaction, ‘Glasses Panda’ opened both arms and said loudly: “A 19 year old boy dying at home who can earn billions of dollars is quite difficult to find in your world.”

“But it’s also true that I’m an otaku!” The youngster thinking otherwise said.

“Indeed! You spend 70% of your life inside of your room, saying that you are an otaku is also right.”

“That’s why I chose to refuse. I don’t want to go inside of a novel and being a member of a big army.”

‘Glasses Panda’ was very lost after listening me and said: “You used to talk to me saying that if you were to pass through, how would you do it, and not only that, you also vowed that you were also absolutely more capable and can do better than those characters of the novels, right? Now that you have the opportunity, you don’t want to.”

“Please! That was just empty talk, any person can have several unrealistic dreams. I dare to bet if somebody happen to pass through, no man would want to!” The youngster shook his head.

After the platform changed into a sofa, ‘Glasses Panda’ sat down and said: “I have never gave to your world to any people, the chance of passing through. You are the first! And I only have chose you because I appreciate your qualifications.”

“There are many more qualified to go than me, you can choose other people.”

“FYA!” Suddenly, ‘Glasses Panda’ tone becomes solemn and sincere, he stands up: “You are the first one that made me admire a person, but also the first friend with which I wish to speak sincerely and have a deep talk. I have chosen you! Do you wish to die like this? With regret and remorse, that kind of silent death? Don't you want to know more about this world! Or a brand-new and majestic world world."

.....This time the youngster was silent, he only lowered his head without replying.

"Don't you like my fantasy CG?" Every single word that 'Panda' said was filled with charm and temptation; "In fact, those CGs are all real! Those are my creation, a real scene of a another world. Don't you want to take a look? And I don't say through a flat image, but being completely integrated into the real scene, touching it for real, feeling it, and it doesn't matter if it is a giant dragon or the also dreamlike beautiful fairy city!"

"If those sceneries are all real..." The youngster raised his head and with an indifferent smile said: "I'm willing to exchange all my wealth even for a moment to enjoy that view..."

"However, you still don't want to?" 'Panda' was obviously somewhat frustrated.

The youngster nodded and said: "Do you want to know why?"

"A unusual thinking!"

"Panda, if you sincerely regard me as a good friend, then if you are really an omnipotent 'God'! In that case..." Suddenly the youngster knelt down in front of 'Panda' and sincerely said: "Then, can you resurrect me and let me return to my family's side? I have too many regrets and guilt towards my family, I hope that I can be together with my parents for some time. That a child dies before their parent is an unfilial act, I don't want to see my parents live in sorrow."

'Glasses Panda' helped the youngster to stand up and looked at him with a self deprecating smile: "According with the passing though novel's plot, by now you should've been already holding my thigh, and asking me to give you a formidable power so after you pass though you could dominate the world, right? Haha! It seems like the reality compared with the fiction are two different things!"

"But don't be sad! I like that kind of spirit." 'Glasses Panda' patted the shoulder's boy and said: "In fact... You're not dead!"

The youngster amazed lifted his head, 'Glasses Panda' snapped his fingers and the platform's scenery started to change once again. The scenario changed to the last minute before he died, the entire room was freezed thought time as if was done by a magic spell. The doctor, the nurse, even him, the youngster lying in the bed together with his parents, all we are maintaining their posture motionless in their original position.

"I stopped the flow of time at the last moment of your life in your world, that's why your body is still alive, but of course, the time will flow again like it should be and maybe in the next second you will die. However, I can cure your illness completely."

Listening to the Panda's words, the youngster crying in tears said: "Thank you... really... Thank you very much."

'Glasses Panda' shooked his head and said: "From your point of view, I can understand your feelings. You can rest assured, your world has already ceased to flow for all the eternity. You can always go back to your world anytime you want and continue with your ordinary life..."

"But you still want me to pass though other world?" From listening 'Panda' words, the youngster had some idea, he seemed to be a little lost: "But... I..."

"I know what you think, but even if you pass through another world, even if you go for hundreds of years, it will not change anything. You can always come back to your life anytime you want." After finish saying those words, instead 'Glasses Panda' knelt down in front of the youngster: "I beg you, ok? Promise me this request."

The youngster was astonished for a moment, he crouched down and helped 'Panda' to stand up and said: "Don't do that, I didn't say that! You really don't have a little of a dignity as a God should."

After both were standing neither spoke, the youngster sighed and showed a reluctant smile: "Do you really want me to pass through?"

"With all my heart!"

Facing 'Glasses Panda' incomparably sincere tone, the youngster seemed determined: “If you can answer and help me resolving several problems regarding passing though, Then I’ll promise you.”

“No problem!”

Chapter 3

Passing through is not a simple matter

A planet similar to Earth, its area is seven times the Earth, and the ratio between sea and land is almost a 7:3...

The youngster looked at the 3D image of a planet that was floating in front of him and said: "This is the world where I have to pass through?"

"That's right! My specially made planet."

"Specially made? What do you mean?" The youngster asked somewhat baffling.

"This planet is a western fantasy style according with the novels, in simple terms, is a planet where the organisms are in the middle of their evolution and some gave birth to wisdom. Even if there are two types of species, they will slowly eliminate each other, but in this planet, in order to imitate the western fantasy style, I deliberately had many species survive ..."

The youngster interrupted 'Glasses Panda' and said: "Wait, you said in accordance with the western fantasy style novels, don't tell me... you made it from the beginning."

"Bingo!" 'Glasses Panda' loving to joke said: "It's not entirely like the beginning of those novels, the planet was modeled from the fantasy of what all the human race has dreamed, generally speaking, it's the synthesis of the idea of the masses."

"But evolution requires at least hundreds of thousands of years of time, that the starting point is such... Forget! You're a 'God', ah!" The youngster laughed at himself.

Stretching his body, 'Glasses Panda' with pride said: "I know what are you thinking, the evolution requires a long time, but I have to merely create a planet and put it in another space with accelerated flow of time. Then it will only take several years to complete the evolution of those species that otherwise would have need several hundred thousand years.”

“Oh!” The boy nodded and said: “Don’t discuss those profound problems, go to the main point, a question.”

“Tell me!”

“Do you still watch Ikkyū-san?” (TN: An anime, more information here: <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ikky%C5%AB-san>)

“Of course, and I still think it’s good.”

...After a short awkward silence, the youngster raised his finger and said: “Panda, you are letting me go to another world, so you have already prepared another body to throw me in, or you will resurrect me into a dead body?”

As if ‘Glasses Panda’ were quite embarrassed answering the question, after moving away his vision for moment, he said: “In fact... I have not determined yet about how you are going to pass through.”

Seeing the change of the youngster’s complexion to a one very ugly, ‘Glasses Panda’ hits the ground and said: “Is that... I wanted to hear your ideas, we can discuss this issue in depth.”

“That’s easy, right now I’m in soul form, so you only need to give me a strong body! The appearance must be handsome and elegant, as for strength... The enmo martial double cultivation, so I can kill a dragon with bare hands, in addition several dozen of million in assets, it would be the best if you can make a beautiful princess of a big country fell in love with me, and of course if you can also strengthen “that aspect” too... Otherwise I will be unable to use my lower body to fight for the world... I forgot this, don’t forget to give me several mysterious artifacts, and sacred devices kind...”

At one hand, the youngster passed a extremely big pile of ‘reasonable’ requests for when passing through, and in the other hand, ‘Glasses Panda’ was listening absent-minded for a long time before spitting some words: “A fart I will let you pass through, ah, I might as well go directly to the internet to find some generic and unrivaled passing through otherworld novel and I would have finished, shit! You always said that the most annoying is the invincible type b protagonist, isn’t that right?”

“It’s one thing to read a novel and it’s another if you really pass through, who doesn’t want to become as strong as possible when passing through.” The youngster not agreeing with him said with a smile.

‘Glasses Panda’ also had no choice but to nod in agreement: “If you want a formidable body, I can give you one, however I will have to restrict you!”

“A restriction?” The youngster inclined his head and looked toward ‘Glasses Panda’: “So it will not be turned into the kind of meeting a strong opponent, or the strong meet weak, (note 1) that kind of inferior product.”

“Oh! You can rest assured, I will restrict your power to a certain extent, if not, you could sweep around the world and that would be very boring!”

“You’re saying that I would be invincible in a fixed range, and leaving the place would be out of the question?”

“Correct, but it’s not that it would be out of the question going outside of your range, rather, you will not be able to leave the place. I will give you some restriction in your range of action, and as it should be, I will give you some missions and those will let you expand your range of activities as long as you complete them. It’s not like I want to make it difficult for you, I just that I hope that you don’t use violence blindly or strength to settle the problems. By restricting you, I merely wishing for you to use strategies.”

“Don’t say that, in fact, there still a more important issue that you need to resolve!” The youngster waved his hands and said.

“Please say!”

“It’s the... spirit... How can I describe it?”

The youngster seemed somewhat distressed thinking what to say: “Panda, you already know that I’m merely a person who has less than twenty years of life, my mental capacity, my spirit,,, What I mean is that after passing through, I’m afraid that it would be hard for me to adapt to the environment of this new world.”

“You can talk in more detail?”

“It’s simple, if a modern man is thrown back into ancient times, maybe they will be unable to adapt to their lifestyle. I will be a man who passed through an unfamiliar world, completely alone, I will not have a friend to rely, a stranger in a strange land. I'm afraid that my spirit... will not be able to hold."

"So what are you saying that you could get is a mental disorder!" 'Glasses Panda' said with a playful tone.

"Certainly, you think when suddenly a person pass through another world, he will be like the protagonist of those YY novels, and will give a big roar, oh!!! God-bye my past life, hello beautiful younger sisters of another world, now come here and kiss your husband, that type of silly words?"

The youngster said those words quite excited: "I can promise you that if I were alone, and suddenly I was sent to a forest of another world, perhaps after a few days my spirit will broke, or maybe I will look for some branch and I will hang myself so I can resolve the problem."

'Glasses Panda' was covering his mouth from letting out his laugh.

"I understand you, is indeed as you said, a ordinary person's spirit will suddenly break and it will be no possible to adapt to that passing through kind of type. But I can help you to resolve that problem!"

"How?" The youngster asked with both hands folded in his waist.

"It's very simple, I will strengthen your mental awareness, this will let you reinforce your spirit endurance capacity." While saying that, 'Glasses Panda' points his finger towards the youngster's forehead.

"Wait a minute!" The youngster quickly evaded Panda's evil claws and said: "You said you will strengthen my spirit, but that kind of thing... Uh... I mean, if you strengthen my spirit, then, after, my personality and my memory will not... be considered mine anymore?"

After stopping his action, 'Glasses Panda' hurriedly explained: "You can rest assured, you'll be still you. When I said that I will strengthen your spirit it doesn't mean that it will alter your personality or memories. To give you an example, is like when some people is born with acrophobia but some day because of a little stimulation they are completely cured. Being afraid of the heights and being fearless are two different things, it doesn't mean that he is not himself."

"Spirit... If it's like that, then I have to trouble you!" The youngster nodded, at last he felt a little relieved.

“Feel relieved, if I really wanted to alter your memory, then you will not have been aware.”

“Then why didn’t you just alter my memories to begin with, and let me pass through directly.”

“In that case, that person it would be not you?” ‘Glasses Panda’ tone changed to a soft one: “And I don’t want to do that to my friend, I respect your feelings and your freedom.”

...Hearing ‘Panda’ talking, the youngster stay blankly without uttering a word.

“Thanks...”

‘Glasses Panda’ was laughing embarrassingly without saying anything, he only placed his finger on the youngster’s forehead, and then a faint light of light. The youngster felt only a warm flow going through his body, even when touching his forehead, he didn’t feel anything strange.

“That’s all? I didn’t feel anything.”

“Relax, there is not problem!”

“Good! But i still have a problem!” Somewhat embarrassed, the youngster said: “Generally speaking, when you pass through another world it’s inevitably that you end up killing someone, and don’t talk about killing... I can’t even kill a fish. The most bloody event that happened to me is killing a cockroach. If I really run into a fight and so on, I think, that even if I’m killed by other it will be improbable that I will fight back. Can you help me with that?”

“It’s the same situation, once I strengthen your spirit, I will carefully explain to you so you can dispel your worries.” Looking at the youngster, ‘Glasses Panda’ said every word seriously: “You’ll still feel pain after I strengthen your spirit, it’s only that your endurance capacity towards pain will increase, your perception towards bloody things will reduce, but in that way there is a possibility that you will become very blood-thirsty and cold. Of course, that will depend of your personality, experience and the ability to adapt.”

The youngster nodded in understanding, he understand what ‘Panda’ is saying, the environment makes the person’s nature! But as long as he remains being himself, he will continue to be.

OK! The youngster clapped his hand and stood up: “That should be no problem, now you have to help me to create a new body.”

‘Glasses Panda’ pondered for a bit and suddenly with excitement said: “I don’t have to bother myself in create a new body, I will let you possess a body. I just though about a very suitable candidate.”

“A suitable candidate? I don’t want to be a natural waste young master kind of some big clan.”

“You really take a big pleasure in mocking.” ‘Glasses Panda’ says while laughing bitterly: “I can guarantee that is your type of favorite character.”

Afterwards, ‘Glasses Panda’ waved his hand and a magnificent figure was displayed in the center of the platform...

An ancient dragon——Yalin! In the extremely cold Yanuode mountains, the lord dragon clan leader, once active in the dragon war, a terrible existence. Even though it doesn’t have the title of Dragon God, the owner in some ways possess a power beyond the Five Dragon Gods... Once more, it stood in the world structure, in the middle of the dragon war, it even killed several Gods. It’s terrible power has long been the nightmare for others dragons. However, at the end Yalin lost and had to retreat to the depths of the Yaunode mountains. Along with pass of the time, this ancient dragon has long been forgotten by the common people in a corner of the world...

At this moment, the youngster seemed to be very excited, after all he didn’t think his new body would be a real dragon, and by the information Panda gave, that dragon is still an extremely powerful dragon. Compared with the normal body of the humanity, indeed, it’s really attractive. The youngster happily raised his thumbs towards ‘Glasses Panda’ idea.

“I’m already ready to give you some limits.” ‘Glasses Panda’ rubbed his nose and spoke right after: “Considering that your range of action where you can use your strength is fixed, I will entrust you with the ability to create life. As your strength is restricted, you will be able to create life to help you complete your affairs. Your new body, the white dragon lord, Yalin, possess a huge knowledge and experience, so after you enter inside, you will be able to read everything it experienced inside its mind. It will help you to understand the general situation in the new world in the fastest time possible.”

The youngster nodded in understanding and said: “So it’s similar to the summoning technique, similar to the novels where they summon different types of armed forces to fight, right?”

“That’s right! These creature that you will summon are not limited by your strength, but they will be similarly restricted. As for how summon, I will give you a system. How you will operate the system is quite simple, you can treat it in the same way as a real-time strategy game. Besides, I guarantee that the degree of freedom is unusually high, and is absolutely unlikely to be inflexible.”

“Thanks.”

“You can summon every kind of creature to appear in that fantasy world, no matter if it’s a dragon, human, spirits, globins, even giants! Especially those characters of the games you play...”

“Even the characters of every serie in 《Heroes of Might and Magic》?” The atmosphere was lively, the youngster happily asked.

“Of course! Not only this system will let you summon without stop, it also can be exchanged for a variety of resources and goods...” Saying that, ‘Glasses Panda’ looked somewhat troublesome and said: “I’ll give you a little assistant inside of this system, so you will be able to ask him about the detailed questions and so on. Now I will use a method to insert the system inside of your mind.”

Even knowing that ‘Glasses Panda’ is an omnipotent god, the youngster can’t help but to be amazed by the power to create life. Suddenly the youngster thought about something important, perhaps it’s the dream of every otaku whether male or female that loves anime, comic and games. The youngster was almost near Glasses Panda’s ear and with a small voice said: “I want to ask you something, can I summon... those characters...”

“Characters from anime?” ‘Glasses Panda’ listened with his head in a twisted angle pondering about it.

Looking at the somewhat embarrassed appearance of 'Glasses Panda', the youngster was somewhat worried, but with the present display of strength the youngster doesn't believe that 'Panda' can't do it.

"You really want to meet with some imaginary characters?" 'Glasses Panda' suddenly changed his expression and with a wicked grin said: "Or perhaps you are preparing yourself to start in a big way?"

Seeing Panda's wicked smile, the youngster breathed a sigh of relief: "What most displeases me are the protagonists, you should have known for a long time about my preferences."

"Don't be so serious, it was only a joke." Glasses Panda' shrugged his shoulders and said: "You really didn't think about my proposal? Think about it, no matter if is PLANT's pink princess of 《Gundam Seed》, the lolis of 《Mahō Sensei Negima!》or the King Arthur of 《Fate/stay night》..."

"All right! Don't say more." The youngster extended his finger to stop the unceasing gabbling of 'Glasses Panda' and said: "I think that I would like to summon characters from anime because I like their character and its behavior. If is possible I would like to go to other world with them. Making exotic friends, going to exotic places, eating exotic food, that's the most romantic thing for me, instead of everyday rushing to rule the world, snatching other people's woman, what God, what sovereign king and so on, what a joke."

Listening the youngster's words, 'Glasses Panda' was speechless. The youngster lowered his voice and continue to speak: "I just said that I only want you to give me a formidable power, in fact, even if you give what I want I will not abuse it. I only want to be a tourist passing through the world, for me, browsing through the beautiful scenery is absolutely better than fighting everyday, plotting against each other in the court."

"It's because of this that I wanted to communicate with you for a long time." Listening to the youngster's words, 'Panda' can't help but nod in admiration: "Everyone has a pure dream, a person has resolved to be an incorruptible official when he was young, but when he has the power in his hands he will not necessarily stick to his dreams, absolute power corrupts people. That's why, when I give you an absolute power, can you guarantee that you will not misuse your power for your own needs?”

“I’m not a saint and neither a god, therefore the answer is... no!” The youngster answered honestly.

“Good, I’m satisfied with your answer!”

‘Glasses Panda’ resembled a child when he was clapping his hands so earnest: “Summoning characters from anime is very simple. When every human creates a story, a fictional character, is a tantamount to create a new parallel world. I just need to simulate those worlds and open a door, then it will possible to bring these characters to this world...”

“But there is a problem, right?”

‘Glasses Panda’ nodded and said: “The problem is that those characters have already a soul given by their authors! In other words, I can’t guarantee these summoned characters will be completely loyal to you...”

“They will be not absolutely loyal to me? In other words you mean that apart of them, other creatures that I summon will be loyal to me?” The youngster confused asked.

“I will give you an explanation.” ‘Panda’ cleared his throat and said: “Originally when I summon those creatures, they have been set to become become 100% loyal to you, regardless what happens, even if you issue an unreasonable order they will absolutely comply. But if you want to summon characters from anime, then I cannot guarantee they will do what you want. The reason is that in those anime, the characters has been given a personality and a set of values by their original creators. For example, in 《Fate/stay night》, the chivalrous knight, Saber, will behave in a honest way, but towards a evil order, like kidnaping, assassination or steal, she will put a strong resistance. And in the same way a evil character will disdain extremely to obey straightforward and upright orders... Do you understand now?”

“I fully understand what you say.” The youngster nodded his head and said: “You can’t force them to be loyal to me?”

“It’s possible, but then I will need to change their system of values, don’t tell me... You want to see Saber become evil, and a evil person become straightforward and upright?" 'Glasses Panda' shooked his head and said: "You absolutely don't want that, after all, for you, those are not the characters you want, because they would be a stranger with the same appearance and nothing more."

The youngster understand completely the intention of 'panda', and of course he doesn't want to do that, but still he didn't want to give up: "Even if they aren't loyal to me, it doesn't matter, I just want more comrades to share the journey and the experience, to feel this world along with them. I don't care if they are loyal or not."

"Since you insist..." Towards the youngster, 'Glasses Panda' reflected for a short moment and said: "Understood! I will take care of that, and also help you!"

Saying that, 'Glasses Panda' suddenly made disappear the platform, and the again in less than five seconds appears front of the youngster. The youngster with curiosity asked: "What happened to you?"

"It took some time to help you setting the way to summon the anime characters."

"It was less than five seconds." The youngster reminded him.

"You think it's was only five seconds! Actually, I compressed the almost five years I've used."

Five years! The youngster twitched his mouth hardly believing at 'Panda'.

Then, 'Glasses Panda', seriously said: "Listen, I will say it only once! I will try my best to change the setting so all the character you summon will not betray you or injury you, only they will have a certain degree of good impression towards you. If you can win their friendship they will recognize you as their most trusted friend and master. But if your actions are against their ideas or personalities, they will change to be unusually cold towards you. They will resist to some of your orders and they may be not willing to carry them or even obstruct your actions. That's the limit of what I can do, and how do you will get along with them is your problem."

Listening to those words, the youngster nodded and with a smile said: "This is already enough, thanks.”

“Because humanity has created too many fictional characters and worlds, just your brain has recorded a countless amount of information, later on I will update your summon system. After you pass through, you can give the detailed questions or the question you want to ask me to your design assistant.” ‘Glasses Panda’ said waving his hand.

(Note 1: In low quality goods, in some YY novels, the protagonist will overcome the determined highest strength, For example, speaking of a God, a Devil King reincarnation and so on, but because the protagonist is too strong the plot can not be explored to the fullest, so some authors are forced to limit the protagonist’s power by a variety of strange reasons, making some kind of special phenomenon. As the protagonist seems to be the same as a poor quality product, the protagonist always has problems in the crucial moments and when they had enough abuse, they will have the power to explode a small universe)

Chapter 4

Dragon King's new beginning

To reach to its overall objective, the prestige of the White Dragon King, Yalin, has to be spreaded through the entire world, regardless of whether is fear or respect. Can be used any method, no matter if it's fear, economic, culture, science, you can use any method possible. The territory governed should be 30% of the world's total area, and you need to have servants at least from the lowest four races. The wealth percentage has to be at least 40% of the world.

"You are asking me to conquer the world!"

"It's supposed to be every man's dream".

"Who said that, ah! Every man's dream is not to breakthrough the horizon." The youngster answered with disdain.

This irrelevant reply managed to force a smile from 'Glasses Panda': "I know you're not interested in conquering the world, but I need to judge the standard from your passing through trip, Because I respect your choice and I understood that you don't love killing people that I made so you can achieve the goal in whatever way possible."

"What if I can't do it?" The youngster asked a question somewhat worried.

"It doesn't matter, even if you fail I can guarantee that you can still return to your former life and I will make all your experiences to seem like a sweet dream. And when that time come you will still be a talented otaku and me a mysterious CG master."

After hearing that, it arouse his fighting spirit: "Then if I can achieve it? If I can reach the goal you gave me, there is any reward?"

After pondering for a bit, 'Glasses Panda' suddenly said with a smile: "If you are willing to go into the campaign path... Good! As long as you reach my goal, I will let in your hands the complete control of the world. Then, not only I will resurrect you, I will let you return to your former life with all your memories intact, and you can treat this world as a gift. You will be able to travel between the two worlds, in this different world you will become God in the true sense. Are you satisfied with it?”

I will become the ruler of the world, that was just a fantasy that he imagined in his ordinary everyday. Now that the opportunity presented itself, the youngster feels nervous, as if he were choking all over his body: “Absolutely satisfied... By the way, when I’m going to pass through?”

Looking at the dazzling blue vortex on the ground, the youngster carefully, prudent, gently and cautiously placed his hand inside. At the moment he touched the vortex, the youngster only felt that his arm that was in the soul form had a heat flow, it looked like once more his hand had blood running inside. The youngster hesitated, he withdrew his hand and a little worried asked: “There will be no problem if I jump?”

‘Glasses Panda’ had a expression of absolute confidence when he nodded: “I know you’re very nervous! You have set free your heart completely and jump down fearless.”

“All right!”

After patting his cheek with all his strength to give himself courage, the youngster put one foot in the vortex. When the youngster was ready to jump in, he suddenly stopped, turned his head to look at ‘Glasses Panda’, and let out a light sigh, and he spoke as honestly as possible: “Thank you!”

“What?” At that moment ‘Glasses Panda’ was confused by his last sentence.

“I thought I was going to leave my world filled with regrets, so I have never expected fate would let me get to know you and arrange such miracle for me. Being able to know you, the Creator, and become friends, it’s truly an honor.”

‘Glasses Panda’ smiling shyly said: “Destiny is created by no other but by yourself, accept your new life and continue to create! Even myself, God, is honored to become friends with you. At last, I will give you a hint, in this world there isn’t anything eternal, neither the so-called immortality. All the living things will die... Including me!”

“Thanks!” The youngster tilted his head then said: “Since it’s a new beginning, I temporarily will leave my past name! The White Dragon King... Yalin. From now on, my name is Yalin.”

After finishing saying that, the youngster suddenly jumped into the vortex. He didn’t imagine the vortex would swallow him completely. The vortex that was like a slowly sinking sand, was devouring the youngster’s body little by little. ‘Glasses Panda’ crouched at the side of the youngster who was being swallowed extending his hand.

The youngster after wavering also stretched his hand, the both hands that were shaking were held together with all their force. When the vortex is about to completely swallow the youngster’s body, the youngster suddenly looked at ‘Glasses Panda’ and asked with a tone of asking for something.

“Sorry! If I’m really your friend ‘Panda’, then I need you to promise a last thing...”

=====

The Yanuode mountains range! A forever frozen land, a forbidden region. The theme of the place is ice and snow throughout the entire year, beside the wind and snow flying all over the sky, the entire place has no other color except pure white. Even if you can see forest covering everything the eye sees, on the mountain range you can only see a bit of green for a short moment during the summer, as this pure white ice world is colored with a bit of different colors.

“It’s so beautiful!”

The White Dragon King——Yalin stands on the mountain peak overlooking this piece of earth, since belongs to its territory. It took a deep breath, letting the cold air fill its lungs, while moving both arms and legs, Yalin looked at his body with excitement. He looked like a young man of more or less 20 years old with a silver white hair with a blue eyes like crystal. He was dressed with delicate silver armor matching the snow white mountain, giving a grim and extremely cold feeling.

In fact, Yalin has just wake to find himself in a huge and spacious palace, and around himself it’s like there are invisible walls to restrict oneself. Soon, Yalin found that he seemed to able to do something like spirit exploration, he can feel everything outside the palace, even if they are little snow rats living in the peak of this mountain they are unable to escape his spirit exploration. Next, Yalin in his attempts, found that his spiritual exploration range is only inside this mountain foot and that he is unable to extend any more than that. He recalled 'Glasses Panda' words and thought that this may be the place with the restrictions.

Inside of a temple, unable to go out, Yalin slowly learned how to read the White Dragon King's memories. Soon, an ice crystal body has been created and compared with the big dragon's body it was more convenient to move. After a few laps inside of the temple for the purpose of an inspection, Yalin exclaims in admiration towards the grandeur's temple. He was disappointed that all passages were blocked. At the next moment, Yalin continued using the spiritual exploration to continue searching the way out, at this moment, Yalin suddenly had an idea, since he can create a new body anytime he want, he might as well create one outside of the mountain's temple.

"The feeling of controlling two bodies at the same time is really strange!" Yalin slowly walked forward despite the blizzard hitting against him. In fact, the temperature at the top of the mountain is at this moment less than 30° below zero. But Yalin doesn't feel cold at all, instead, he has a strange feeling, that the more cold the body is, the more happy he feels.

Even though the big dragon's body is still sealed inside the mountain's temple, he continues using the spiritual exploration throughout the territory of the mountain, while the doppelganger is cleaning the blocked paths. The new created doppelganger is already beginning to enjoy the snow on this beautiful other world. Although he is controlling two new bodies in different jobs, Yalin doesn't feel so strange, his two bodies are like his left and right hands.

Through exploring, Yalin has a roughly understanding to where he is right now, the entire temple was buried in the center area of the mountain, and it seemed to be connected to many complex buildings. But because they collapsed and were buried with snow there are only vestiges of some fragmentary ruins.

To get rid of the workload, it's quite necessary to increase the number of helpers! I have many things to do, Yalin was ready to make more doppelgangers, however every time he made one he found that their strength was dropping a little every time. So, the doppelganger were able to use less strength each time to clean the rocks of the temple, finally he had no alternative but to dispel the doppelgangers that were cleaning the ruins.

After erasing the doppelgangers that were cleaning inside the temple, Yalin concentrated all his efforts in the doppelganger that was outside. After the doppelganger was knocked a collapsed stone, Yalin laughed at himself and said: "I almost forgot, 'Panda' had gave something good."

"Invoke the 'Summon System' interface!"

Along with the words, the scenery around Yalin, the inside of the temple, instantly changed into a three-dimensional system interface. The entire interface was divided into two categories, on one side it was displaying a three-dimensional DNA code and below two marks of life, and at the other side, it was displaying a wrench figure and below the marks of the building materials. But above the system it was displaying two types of information: Soul energy: 200000

Material energy: 1000000

Yalin doesn't need to do anything. He just need to gently think and the system will carry his orders according to his wishes. After entering in the construction material interface, The many things that could be seen could leave to any person dazzled, every kind of goods to buy and their selling price.

1 ton of fine iron ore: 120 material energy – Selling: 100 Material energy.

1 ton of fine copper ore: 70 material energy – Selling: 55 material energy.

1 ton of wood: 35 material energy – Selling: 15 material energy.

Secondary gem ore: 140 material energy – Selling 100 material energy 【Not unlocked】

Some are clearly materials that you can see on the Earth, and are relatively cheap things, and some others expensive stuff that Yalin had never heard of.

1 ton of moon tin ore: 800 material energy – Selling: 600 material energy 【Not unlocked】

1 ton of fire rock ore: 750 material energy – Selling: 500 material energy 【Not unlocked】

500 grams of refined orichalcum: 1200 material energy – Selling: 1000 material energy
500 grams of refined mithril: 850 material energy – Selling: 600 material energy 【Not unlocked】

500 grams of agate branch: 550 material energy – Selling 500 material energy 【Not unlocked】

Apart from a variety of minerals and materials, the construction material interface has other things like, weapons, armors, food and daily necessities and various sorts and varieties of summoning icons. Yalin took a rough glance and was surprised at the vast collection in the system, even the said system has all kind of materials of minerals that Earth, the humanity has ever dreamed. You can't even underestimate the weapons and buildings.

Leaving the construction material interface, Yalin restrained his excitement and entered into the creation interface: Minotaur: 【Not unlocked】

Spirits: 【Not unlocked】

Human: 【Not unlocked】

Gryphon: 【Not unlocked】

Dwarf: 【Not unlocked】

Goblin: 【Can summon】

Orc: 【Not unlocked】

Sub human:【Not unlocked】

Yalin is admiring one by one those three-dimensional figures in front of him, he selected the minotaur on the top of the interface, and immediately, the system screen displayed different types of minotaurs: Minotaur civilian 【Need to unlock Minotaur】: To summon requires 165 soul energy: Strength 89 – Agility 28 – Spirit 54 – Wisdom 36 – Constitution 72

Before, Yalin liked too much numbers and a brief introduction when playing games, especially real time strategy games. Every time after buying a new game, Yalin often began reading in full detail the manual about the brief introduction of the soldiers. Looking at the brief introduction of the summon system, Yalin is shivering all over his body from the excitement of thinking that these legendary creatures will be soon under his hands. Only, this 【Not unlocked】 let Yalin bewildered. He thinks perhaps this is like a game, that he might not have upgraded what he needs or possibly he didn't unlock it in the science and technology tree, that kind of thing.

He looks dazzled looking at the screen filled with all those summon creatures, but a lot of those icons have been added the two words 【Not unlocked】. Yalin feels worried, he turned several pages only to find the only summon creature he can unlock is the globin. Looking at their requisites to summon, they need only 15 soul energy, sure enough they meet expectations that are expected to. Yalin feels that these creatures are not qualified to act even as cannon folder with their low numbers.

I'm not a big dragon? Then I should be able to summon others dragons! Inside his mind, Yalin starts searching for dragons. The system immediately made a list with icons of dragons.

Black Dragon:【Not unlocked】

Red Dragon: 【Not unlocked】

Green Dragon: 【Not unlocked】

Blue Dragon: 【Not unlocked】

Bronze Dragon: 【Not unlocked】

Shadow Dragon: 【Not unlocked】

Gold Dragon: 【Not unlocked】

White Dragon: 【Can summon】

Toxic Dragon: 【Not unlocked】

Sub Dragon: 【Not unlocked】

.....

Seeing the word 【Can summon】in the White Dragon item, Yalin excited enter into the White Dragon summon interface: White Dragon Young Dragon Requires 36000 soul energy to summon:

Strength 1262 – Agility 684 – Spirit 451 – Wisdom 263 – Constitution 626

Special skill: Magic research 【4 Expert】 Engraving research 【2 Understanding】

Ability: Tough and resilient – Element control – Ice frost domain – Ice frost resistance – Elemental creatures in control 0/300

Brief introduction: White Dragon King Yalin clan, a completely mature White Dragon. Immunity towards ice damage and proficient towards ice magic. Has a certain immunity towards flame magic. Expert in using ice domain. Can summon elemental creatures.

Unexpectedly, the dragon can be summoned! It's really worthy of a Dragon, in RPG, these creatures play the sole role of being the BOSS! The smallest and weakest young dragon actually needs 36000 soul energy. If I would summon globins, the exchange would be a division of globin experts. Moreover, to summon others from different dragon's races, the Young Black Dragon would cost 52000 soul energy. Looking at this, Yalin isn't able to hold back anymore, he directly called the interface and issued an order: "Summon a Adult White Dragon!"

<System prompt: To summon one Adult White Dragon, you need to use 48000 soul energy points! Are you sure?>

Definitely!!

<System prompt: Select the summoning place>

The system map was using a blue colored point to show me the different places where I can summon it. Without the slightest hesitation, Yalin choose to summon it outside of the temple, at the doppelganger's side. On the mountain's peak, in a open space, a lot of white spots began to appear out of thin air. These light spots quickly began to gather together forming a huge body...
